

Students will work individually and in small groups. The class will be made up of lectures, class worksheets/activities, videos and other various learning strategies. Most days there will be a bell ringer question or activity on the board that students are to begin working on at the start of class.