Teacher Personal Note: Avanesian, Adri

10/24/2011 - Adri fell asleep in class again today. I'm worried that she is not getting enough sleep and have noticed that she has taken on a great deal this semester including Swimming, two AP courses, student body government and band. On top of all this, she has started a weekend job at the mall.

Teacher Personal Note

Teachers can now add a personal note for each student that is not visible to students, parents, other teachers or administrators. This helps the teacher keep better track of professional observations, logging student learning behaviors or other important information that can be used to individualize instruction for each student.
